

Fuenteungrillo

The desert area has an extension of ten hectares and is located in the Anguilon valley which is formed by Las Fuentes stream, in whose headwaters it is located this village. The enclosure of the castle was built taking advantage of this feature, in the Western side of the village.

The site has two cores: Fuenteungrillo and Santa Coloma, both surrounded by walls. The first time the village was mentioned was in the year 1201, appearing cited during the XIII century. In the XIV century, 30 families were living there.
