

Museum of the potty

This original museum, installed in a stone building built in the XVIII century, exposes urinals of tin, wood, ceramic, porcelain, copper, aluminium, stone, glass, iron, enamelled, gold, and silver. The smallest one is like a pea; it was made by a Swedish jeweller in platinum, and the biggest, with 45 cm. of height, is of mud and comes from Ciudad Rodrigo. The collection is from the Mirobrigense José María del Arco Ortiz "Pesetos".
