

Parish Museum of Nuestra Señora de la Asuncion

Consists of the sacristy and two rooms, with a Gothic staircase.

Religious art: painting, fourteenth to seventeenth century sculptures, fifteenth to nineteenth century gold and silverware, ornaments and a collection of Roman coins.

Buildings

Major Church of the Asuncion de Nuestra Señora: Large 12th-century church, with thick walls and naves of equal height. It contains a remarkable series of paintings and sculptures, as well as the grid of the presbytery. Most of the church was built in the 12th century, but the original Romanesque apses were replaced with Gothic ones in the 14th century. The Baroque altarpiece adapts to the polygonal shape of the apse and is decorated with scenes of the life of Mary. It is reminiscent of the school of Gregorio Fernández.
