Paco Diez Museum of Iberian Musical Instruments

The Classroom is the result of 30 years of hard work and dedication to the dissemination of traditional music. It has a large collection of Traditional Musical Instruments of Spain and Portugal, organized according to the sound source into four major families, the Idiophones, String instruments, wind instruments and Membranophones.

The Museum pursues six key objectives: Restore and maintain those Traditional Musical Instruments whose use is gradually subsiding. Periodically disseminate our rich Musical and Oral Tradition. Disseminate Traditional Music and Culture from around the World. Arrange the meeting between Traditional Musicians. Promote learning about the construction of instruments, and make discover all audiences the pleasure of the dances of our elders.
