

Cattle Mercedes Perez-Tabernero Montalvo

In "El Villar de los Álamos", where Mercedes Pérez Tabernero's livestock grazes, the bull feels like the owner and lord of the field, he is respected and admired like nowhere else in the world. On this farm you can see him galloping, his mothers raising, his daughters charging and his faithful companion, the horse, working.

In this pasture located in Aldehuela de la Bóveda, 15 minutes from the capital, very close to the Fuente de San Esteban and well connected to Ciudad Rodrigo and La Alberca, you can enjoy the breakdown of a horse in a fence, of bravery in a square of gropses and the flavor of a generous and welcoming land.

The farm hides a large box of secrets made up of the brave bull and the Salamanca pasture. Here you hear about the onslaught and the nobility, about dedication and depth, about class and bravery, in the heat of the fireplace, to the sound of a glass of wine, after spending a day in the company of one of the most beautiful animals ever known.
