

Parish Church of the Asuncion

This romanesque-gothic transition church was built in the mid 13th century.

There is a 14th-century arcade in the Romanesque front. Above it, Gothic sculptures of the apostles with meticulously carved robes under small canopies. The altar table is decorated with a frieze full of intertwined monsters like the ones to be found in the British Romanesque buildings of the mid 12th century. The church contains a Gothic front.
