On Thursday, May 22, at 5 p.m., there will be a puppet show in the Book Fair Tent with Teatro Arbolé.

"Cinco Lobitos" is a show created for children to enjoy the adventures of the poor little wolves who live in classic fairy tales, accompanied by traditional characters. Five short stories, with puppets and songs, to de-dramatize the figure of the wolf.

"Cinco Lobitos," a well-known song, serves as the name for these five short stories told through the eyes of the wolf, sometimes innocent and sometimes mischievous. A beautiful show, created with different puppetry techniques, in which music plays a key role, as some twenty catchy and engaging songs are performed.

We always wonder if these little wolves, whom the she-wolf cared for, were the same ones who later starred in the stories... So with this work, we're going to learn their story. Let's put fear away, once and for all, to laugh and enjoy the poor little wolves of classic tales.

Free admission.
