Joaquín Latorre

SPEAKER

Joaquín Latorre Joaquín Latorre holds a PhD in Economics from the University of Valladolid, a Master's degree in Marketing and Innovation, and a degree in Tourism. He has conducted research stays in several countries and speaks several languages. He is currently Secretary General and senior researcher at the European Mycological Institute (EMI). His research focuses on mycotourism, mycological resources, non-timber forest products, and rural development. He has published his work in several international scientific journals.

Copyright © 2024 Junta de Castilla y León - Consejería de Cultura y Turismo