CANAL OF CASTILLA ROUTE

Esclusa Frómista, Palencia

The Canal of Castilla Route runs through the plateau between the provinces of Palencia, Burgos and Valladolid. It has three branches: the North branch (Alar del Rey to Calahorra de Ribas, near Ribas de Campos), the Campos branch (from Calahorra de Ribas to Medina de Rioseco) and the South branch (from Serrón, near Grijota, passing through Palencia to Valladolid). An Asset of Cultural Interest since 1991, the Canal de Castilla was built in the 18th and 19th centuries and is one of the most important Civil Engineering projects of the Spanish Enlightenment period. Enjoy the wealth of monuments, landscapes and wildlife you'll find along the route's towpaths. You will see locks, docks, a large number of bridges and flour mills, such as the San Antonio mill in Medina de Rioseco or the Abarca mill.

On your journey, you will come across cities such as Palencia and Valladolid, as well as Historic-Artistic Sites of great heritage value such as Dueñas, Becerril de Campos, Fuentes de Nava, Medina de Rioseco, Montealegre de Campos and Villalba de los Alcores. Get on your bike and be amazed by the changing landscapes that include moors, riverbanks, the plains of Tierra de Campos and the vineyards of the Cigales Wine Route.

TOURIST PROPOSALS

Ermita de San Segundo, Ávila

SAN SATURIO HERMITAGE, ÁVILA

This beautiful 12th-century Romanesque hermitage, built in local “caleño” granite, stands outside the city walls along the banks of the River Adaja. It is dedicated to Saint Segundo, the first bishop of Ávila and a disciple of the apostle James - a dedication that was established following the discovery of his remains in 1519. Its southern doorway features semicircular archivolt adorned with roll mouldings and rosettes. On either side, two columns bear capitals decorated with human, animal and vegetal figures. The original nave roofs were replaced with a timber structure of Mudéjar influence. In front of the western entrance stands a Roman altar. Inside, the highlight is the exceptional alabaster praying statue of the saint, created by Juan de Juni in the 16th century, as well as a reredos from the same period, with the image of the saint at its centre. The structure also houses two other sculptures in niches, while the remaining panels and tiers are painted. The bishop’s remains were transferred in 1615 to the Chapel of San Segundo, attached to the apse of the Cathedral. Declared a National Monument in 1923.

Fiesta Barroca de Lerma, Burgos

BAROQUE FESTIVAL OF LERMA, BURGOS

Among the many events and festivals held in the picturesque town of Lerma, one of Spain’s most beautiful villages, the Baroque Festival stands out. In 2025, it has been newly designated as a Festival of Tourist Interest in Castilla y León. If there is one Baroque city par excellence in Spain, it is Lerma, the capital of the Arlanza region, whose stunning 17th-century architecture was created under the influence of one of the most powerful figures at the court of Philip III: Francisco de Sandoval y Rojas, 1st Duke of Lerma. As a great patron of the arts, he gathered the era’s leading architects to design a unique complex of religious and civic buildings unmatched anywhere else in Spain. To commemorate this extraordinary golden age, the town hosts the Baroque Festival every year on the first weekend in August. Since 2000, locals have donned period dress to recreate the days of the Duke and his court, with actors portraying nobles, richly attired in elaborate historical costumes.

VIA FERRATAS IN LEÓN

León's via ferratas are mountain routes fitted with cables, rungs, walkways and suspension bridges, enabling climbers to traverse rock walls and cliffs using a harness. Among the most notable is the Valdeón Via Ferrata (Cordiñanes), which stretches over 1,200 metres across vertical rock and climbs a height of around 300 metres. This route is classified as advanced (K4). Another challenging option is the Valdetorno Via Ferrata (Sabero), also rated K4. In addition to its bridge, this route features a striking cave that climbers pass through to reach a Tibetan bridge. The Cueva del Elefante Via Ferrata (Cistierna) is rated K3, with an optional K6 variant suitable only for highly experienced climbers. Equally worth mentioning is the Flores y Lagunas Valles de Arbás Via Ferrata (Cubillas de Arbás), located within the Alto Bernesga Biosphere Reserve. It offers multiple levels of difficulty (K2, K3, K4), making it suitable for various abilities. Lastly, the Pico Cabrón Via Ferrata (Portilla de la Reina) stands out for its unique geography, direct access from the road, and above all, its breathtaking views. This route is also rated as advanced (K4).

Paellada Ollerense, Palencia

OLLERENSE PAELLE, OLLEROS DE PISUERGA, PALENCIA

Every first Sunday of August, the village of Olleros de Pisuerga becomes the epicentre of one of Castilla y León's Festivals of Tourist Interest: the Great Ollerense Paella. Over 40 years ago, a group of friends decided the best way to honour Saints Justo and Pastor was to gather around a giant paella next to the village's iconic rock-cut church. What began as a humble get-together has grown into a major celebration, attracting thousands of visitors to enjoy this delicious dish and the village's warm hospitality. The day begins with a lively parade of traditional bands and musicians accompanying the chefs to the site of the monumental paella. A mass is held in the rock-hewn hermitage, known as the Basilica of Hermitism, followed by a solemn procession. The festival's highlight comes when thousands of portions of paella are served to the crowd, a true reflection of the festive and welcoming spirit of Olleros de Pisuerga.

CASTILLA Y LEÓN THEATRE, CIUDAD RODRIGO, SALAMANCA

At the end of August, Ciudad Rodrigo transforms into a magnificent open-air theatre as it hosts the Castilla y León Theatre Fair - a must-attend event for lovers of the performing arts. It showcases the latest creative trends with unique and captivating performances for audiences of all ages. In 2025, the fair celebrates its 28th edition, presenting productions by both national and international companies, with a special focus on those from Castilla y León, Spain, France, and Portugal. Around thirty theatre companies perform across a variety of spaces and genres. Street performances take place throughout the town's squares and streets, while more conventional shows are held at the Teatro Nuevo, Espacio Afecir, Sala Tierra, and Patio de los Sitios.

PUERTO DE MALANGOSO, SEGOVIA

From the village of Collado Hermoso, just 20 kilometres from the provincial capital, visitors can embark on the scenic route to the Malangosto Pass, also known as the "Route of the Archpriest of Hita". The route stretches some 31 kilometres and involves nearly 800 metres of elevation gain, so appropriate cold-weather gear and mountain hiking experience are essential. Along the way, hikers can admire the Cistercian Monastery of Santa María de la Sierra (now privately owned), pass through the valleys of the Río Viejo and Pirón, and reach the spring of the River Cambrones and the Malangosto shelter-hermitage, two iconic landmarks of the route. At the summit, a cross atop a rocky outcrop marks the Malangosto Pass, offering breathtaking views of the Castilian Plateau and the Lozoya Valley. Since 1969, a pilgrimage has taken place here every first Saturday in August, organised by the Asociación Amigos del Libro del Buen Amor (Friends of the Book of Good Love Association) to honour the journey described by the Archpriest of Hita.

FESTIVAL OF THE DESCENT OF JESUS IN ALMAZÁN, SORIA

A Festival of Tourist Interest in Castilla y León. Held on the first Sunday of September, this is the main day of the patron saint festivities in Almazán. The Hermitage of Jesús de Almazán, built on the site of the former Church of Santiago and designed by Juan Antonio de Pempinela, is municipally owned and houses the town's patron, Jesús Nazareno, a strikingly expressive sculpture inspired by Gregorio Fernández. On the festival's main day, the statue is carried from the Campanario Church to the Hermitage, with the emotional high point occurring as it crosses the Plaza Mayor. At around ten o'clock in the evening, the square is plunged into darkness. As the statue of Christ reaches the town gate, it is illuminated only by a dazzling display of fireworks and explosions, while the crowd watches in reverent silence. Moved by the devotion of the townspeople, the statue turns back to face the crowd before continuing to the hermitage, where it will remain until the following year.

A JOURNEY INTO THE RENAISSANCE IN MEDINA DEL CAMPO, VALLADOLID

Every year from 14 to 20 August, Medina del Campo becomes a living Renaissance set during its Renaissance Week, one of the most vibrant and spectacular events in the province of Valladolid. During this week, the town turns into a time machine transporting visitors to the 16th century, with craft markets, dramatised tours of the Castle of La Mota, guided routes, culinary experiences and much more. Iconic locations such as the Plaza Mayor, the Royal Butcheries and the Castle's surroundings burst into life with colour and energy. The highlight is the dramatic re-enactment of "The Burning of Medina", a night-time spectacle recreating the devastating fire of 1520 when imperial troops set the town ablaze. Light, fire, sound and projection mapping combine in a truly electrifying production that captivates thousands. Step into history like never before and experience the Renaissance Week of Medina del Campo - an unmissable event for lovers of history, culture and excitement!

ZAMORA VARIOPINTA

Zamora has become a top destination for fans of street art. Over the past decade, the City Council has developed a large-scale urban muralism initiative known as “Zamora Variopinta” (Zamora in Full Colour). Today, the project encompasses more than 60 large-format murals, transforming the city into an open-air museum that has already attracted over 270,000 visitors, as tracked through dedicated QR codes. Far from being randomly selected, the murals carry strong symbolism: they pay tribute to historical figures from Zamora, reflect local customs and traditions, or depict scenes from the past that have shaped the city’s present. This is a fantastic way to explore the city’s artistic side, especially beyond the historic centre. Several websites now rank Zamora among the top Spanish cities for this expressive and contemporary form of public art. Special guided tours of Zamora’s murals can also be arranged.
