

Balneario de Retortillo

Retortillo Spa is situated on the banks of the River Yeltes set amidst holm oaks and granite rocks that form part of extensive parkland. A landscape that is made even more spectacular by the river which flows deep in the valley.

Although the hot springs have been used for medicinal purposes since the days of the Romans, as evidenced by the votive altar discovered and kept in the spa, work began on the actual buildings in 1903 and today it boasts modern spa and accommodation facilities in a stunning natural setting.
