

Museum General San Martin

Recalls and celebrates the Castilian roots of the liberator of the Argentine Republic. House where Capitán D. Juan de San Martín Gómez was born, house of the San Martín family and now a museum.

Constructed with adobe, adobe walls and wooden pillars joined to the mud framework, carried out by using construction techniques documented in the eighth century AD. The house is constructed following the traditional typology of the rural farmhouse. There are two central areas: the house and the animal quarters.
