Ethnographic Museum of Villadiego

The Ethnographic Museum is part of the Villadiego museum complex "Museums of the Arch" and is one of the six centers of the town. It is installed in the adjacent house of the Painting Museum building, also known as the Prison Arch.

This museum shows the ways of life of our recent past; trades (the field, the blacksmith, the bakery ...), work systems, technological evolution, use of materials, housing and its activities (kitchen, bedroom, laundry, making suits ...), school and a unique collection of velocipedes (replicas of the 19th century).

An ideal space to learn about rural life in this area in a playful and interactive way.
