

REAL POSADA DE LA MESTA

This establishment occupies a building that dates from 1729; it offers one of the few representative examples of the typical houses of this district. The Inn set is among hundred-year-old pine woods, at the foot of the Picos de Urbión.

The house has thirteen rooms, each differentiated into three categories, and all of which are decorated differently with furniture that alternates the rustic and the contemporary. There are various activities, which we can particularly mention mushroom and fungus gathering from March to November.
