

LA PASCASIA

Posada Real *****

La Pascasia finds itself in an arcaded building from the 17th century that was formerly an old Castilian guest house. Its refurbishment retained some of its original features such as its stone walls and beams whilst combining the most modern and innovative structural and decorative elements such as heated floors and an original light that hangs in the stairwell.

This Posada has seven rooms, which have magnificent views of the Tera River, as well as the surrounding mountains and Puebla's main street.
