

Gumiel de Izán

The beautiful Burgos town of Gumiel de Izán has been located on the banks of the Gromejón River, a peaceful tributary of the Duero, since Roman times.

This town has a rich artistic heritage in the facades and interiors of its multiple religious temples, with the Gothic church of Santa María being the most important monument in Gumiel.

Walk through its quiet cobblestone streets, filled with large stone, adobe and wooden houses that constitute a great example of traditional architecture in the area.

The town has a great tradition in the production of exquisite Ribera del Duero wines and is surrounded by wineries and wineries.

You can't miss it!
