

Sierra de Gredos Regional Park

Discover the Sierra de Gredos, an amazing landscape sculpted by ancient glacial forces. With serene lagoons, rocky cirques, steep gorges and imposing cliffs, this corner becomes the perfect refuge for the mountain goat, vultures and eagles compete to dominate the sky and it is a true paradise for flora including unique botanical endemisms.

In the Sierra de Gredos Regional Park, admire the iconic Circus and Laguna Grande de Gredos, presided over by the imposing summit of Almanzor, the highest peak of the Central System. Also visit the Eagle Grottoes, a fascinating underground world.

Enjoy a Starlight experience contemplating a unique spectacle in the night sky from one of the most renowned observatories in the country.

Let yourself be captivated by creating memories in every corner!

ENVIROMENTAL AREAS

wildlife:	Over 230 catalogued vertebrate species, among which stand out endemic species such as: Iberian barbel, marbled teal, the salamander of the Almanzor, and the toad of Gredos. The Spanish imperial eagle, the cinereous vulture, the black stork, the Iberian ibex and the European snow vole of Avila also settle here.
Relief:	Impressive landscape shaped by glacial erosion in granite rocks of the Sistema Central. Lakes, cirques, gorges and the great Pico Almanzor.
Vegetation:	Distributed in bioclimatic bands based on altitude, its main ecological value lies in the numerous endemic species of rock vegetation.
