

Castle of Coca

This castle dates back to the late 15th century and is owned by the House of the Dukes of Alba, although it has been handed over to the Junta de Castilla y León.

Situated in the ancient Roman town of Cauca ' today known as 'Coca' ' it is an outstanding example of brick military architecture. It was built by Archbishop Alonso of Fonseca, during the reign of Henry IV of Castile in the late 15th century. At each corner of the two square enclosures stand polygon-shaped towers, one of which is the keep.
