

Castle of Castilnovo

14th - 16th century castle, reformed between the 19th and the 20th centuries. The present castle is thought to have been built on a previous structure, probably a small fortress. Trapezoid ground plan, with six round and rectangular turrets of brick and masonry. Arched, parted windows. Rectangular turrets, one of which leads inside the building.

Particularly noteworthy is a corner turret reminiscent of another turret in Monteagudo de las Vicarías (Soria). The main features of the building are 14th century. The southern section, with its wooden gallery, dates back to 1861, and the present stone yard was built in the 20th century.
