

Posada Santa María la Real

Posada Real ****

This inn lies within the tourist complex of the Santa María La Real monastery, installed in what were the farm premises (sheds and granaries) of the 12-th century monastery, although the part of the structure where the Posada is located was built in the 17th century.

La Posada, whose restoration maintains the typical architecture of the area, is distributed in two storeys. An imposing gate gives access to an open cobbled patio which forms the centre of the inn.

The 22 guest rooms in the inn all overlook the cobbled patio or the garden.
